

Entomologist

Entomologists are curious about the relationships insects have with each other and with other animals, environments and human beings. They are tenacious and logical when finding the best ways to use insects to pollinate crops and protect trees, wildlife, and livestock from pests.

Curious, tenacious, logical