

Horticulturalist

Horticulturists are curious about the best ways to grow food and other types of plants. They need to be logical to conduct pest and disease investigations and imaginative when they experiment with improved varieties of plants with greater resistance to pests and disease.